PROGRAM at-a-glance

Revolutionize your Practice: Become a Certified RESET Practitioner and Empower Lives with a unique Transformative Trauma-Healing Program!

RESET Practitioner training is an immersion in five-days of experiential learning, self-exploration, for personal and professional development. During this training you will experience some of the profound healing that you will subsequently be able to offer your clients.

As of July 1, 2023, authorized psychiatrists in Australia can legally access products containing 3,4-methylenedioxy-methamphetamine (MDMA) for the treatment of traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) and psilocybin for treatment-resistant depression. This decision reflects research showing MDMA has demonstrated efficacy in addressing post-traumatic stress disorder, while psilocybin shows promise in treating individuals with treatment-resistant depression.

As psychedelic medicines gain legal recognition, the RESET Program offers comprehensive preparation, healing, and integration elements to enhance their therapeutic effects. Moreover, the RESET Program has demonstrated significant benefits over the past decade as an alternative to psychedelic medicines, delivering substantial results independently of their use.

As the use of psychedelics, plant medicines, meditation, and other trance-inducing practices increases, so does the collective experience of dissociation, disembodiment, and psychological fragmentation.

In earlier times, altered states of consciousness were embedded within cultural rituals that provided a structured framework for the soul to deepen its connection with the body, rather than leading to unintended harm as seen today.

This training is designed to prepare wellness practitioners and clinicians for the future of psychedelic-assisted therapy and healing. It draws upon Transpersonal and Somatic models to explore essential topics, acquiring core skills and techniques for guiding individuals through non-ordinary states of consciousness, and effectively integrating transformative experiences into everyday life.

Throughout this training, we will examine how somatic intelligence utilizes the body's wisdom as a pathway to enhance personal awareness and contribute to collective awakening.

RESET PRACTITIONER TRAINING

The RESET program is a holistic, trauma-informed, model of health and wellness. It is a therapeutic program which aims to dissipate the harmful imprints of trauma from the human nervous system and psyche.

Based on the principles and works of Dr. Mario Alam, RESET views trauma through a multi-faceted lens, incorporating personal, interpersonal, intergenerational, and inter-incarnational viewpoints. As such, the therapy itself is commensurately multi-faceted, whilst still retaining an elegant simplicity. It takes clients on a three-stage journey of “Ground, Transform, and Expand” thereby allowing the safe and gradual release of any deeply embedded traumas that may be obstructing further evolution and self-realization.

The technique offered during the training, combines a number of holistic and evidence-based modalities such as Breath Work, Hypnosis, Neuro Linguistic programming (NLP), Energy Healing, Visualization and Trigger Points to travel to the root cause of a deeply anchored emotional trauma and release it for good.

The RESET program is also rooted on body-based therapies to release the debilitating effects of trauma in a way that words cannot. The program incorporates elements of therapeutic exercises from a range of disciplines, including:

- Polyvagal Theory inspired vagal toning exercises
- Dance and movement therapies
- Trauma-informed yoga & qigong
- Somatic therapies
- Myofascial release
- Acupuncture
- Sound and music therapies

Founder of Conscious Flow Breathwork, Holistic Health Coach, Meditation & Mindfulness Teacher

“Transformational and deeply insightful”

A deepened acknowledgment of how profoundly powerful it is to be journeying along our soul line. How powerful this technique is to release unwanted emotional charges, to return to a state of deep inner peace and to connect to our soul and highest self. What a powerful tool this is, to help people see a different perspective, to forgive self and others, and to come to a place of love and acceptance.

I appreciated everything what was being shared around making a clear contract with the client around how long exactly the session will go for, to make them feel 100% safe and in control. If we feel that the client is resistant, to connect to any of the parts of the person that are resistant and to acknowledge them. Welcome that part (all parts) and make the person as a whole feel seen and heard.

Austin Stewart

Certified Coach, practitioner of Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP), Hypnosis, Time Line Therapy®, Yoga teacher and Qigong practitioner

“An intuitive, soft and deliberate program. Assists individuals in understanding trauma and moving it through their system”

I consolidated my knowledge of time line therapy but with a beautiful spiritual resonance. I realised that when held in a safe environment, I can navigate aspects of my unconscious that are not readily available consciously. I can explore trauma without retraumatising but rather with a deep curiosity and wonder that helps reset old paradigms and the neurological system

Justine Janssen

Co-founded Canberra's largest yoga studio Power Yoga Canberra and co-founder of Embody Wellbeing

“The RESET program is an opportunity to participate and experience your own inner healing”

This program holds a rare opportunity for those seeking healing to not only break through beyond their past thresholds of previous investigation but be held in a guided process led by embodied facilitators within a supportive retreat community.

Pamela Kirkley

Mental Health Clinician, Social Worker, Yoga Therapist and Breathwork Teacher

“Powerful, transformative, medicinal, layered, multi-dimensional”

More alive than I have been in a long time, still grounded as well. This was an incredible process and I would love the opportunity to continue to offer this as a practitioner on the retreats and solidified my practice with the method and seeing it's transformation for the lender.
